Product Description

Few things tend to liven up the atmosphere of a playground more than a shiny, new play structure or piece of equipment. If you're in the market for a high-quality, one-of-a-kind playground climber that kids will love to play on and thoroughly enjoy for several years to come, look no further than the Terrestrial Transit. This innovative design is guaranteed to be the center of attention as children gather to explore this unique element. Unlike traditional climbing equipment such as monkey bars, which facilitates solely up-and-down movement, the Terrestrial Transit utilizes synthetic ropes with extremely high tensile strength. These allow kids to safely climb up, down, side-to-side, or in whatever method they choose. The ropes are even ...
