Product Description

When it comes to body weight training, it's important to use equipment that's both reliable and durable. The Intermediate Playground Gym checks both boxes, utilizing galvanized steel with a powder-coat finish to ensure the longevity of the equipment itself and maximize safety for users. Whether users wish to scale the ladder climber or perform strength exercises at the dip station, users will be able to do so safely and efficiently. This outdoor fitness gym features several different elements that all have various uses, allowing visitors to customize their fitness experience. The intuitive, multi-station design of the Intermediate Playground Gym allows up to six users ages 13 and up to exercise simultaneously without fear of bumping...
