Product Description

If your playground or outdoor space could use some fitness equipment, start with the Triple Royal Core Combo Station. Made from galvanized steel, the Core Combo Station is as dependable as it is sturdy. It facilitates a variety of different core exercises. Sit-ups can be effectively done using the attached sit-up bench. The bench features two steel bars at two different heights, allowing the user to perform less or more difficult sit-ups depending on their individual level of fitness. The Core Combo station also includes a pull-up bar, as well as two curved steel bars for dips, both of which engage the core and upper bodies of the users. If you're looking for a great piece of exercise equipment that people can use outdoors, the Triple Royal Core Combo Station is th...
