Product Description

Another addition to PlaygroundEquipment.com's line of kids outdoor fitness equipment, the Tilted Pull Slider is great for developing kids' upper body strength. With the Tilted Pull Slider, kids start at the base of the angled aluminum board and, using the steel bar that runs parallel to the board, they pull themselves up to the top. This provides young athletes with a simple yet effective means to exercise their upper body muscles, including forearms, shoulders, and biceps. Even for kids who aren't involved in athletics, the Tilted Pull Slider serves as a challenging yet fun way to get active on the playground. Whether one uses it on its own or makes it part of a larger fitness circuit, the Tilted Pull Slider will see much use on any playground or outdoor space it's installed on.
